A GLANCE BACKWARD

Today the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research reaches its third birthday - a mere babe when compared with older societies of a similar kind, but an infant on which we look with considerable pride. Called into existence by a small group of enthusiasts, the first meeting in Sept., surprised them with an attendance of thirty five interested persons. The organization then formed now boasts an active membership of 259.

The City of Detroit, with its background of Indian, French, English and American life, a city through which has flowed, and still flows the current of western migration from our Eastern shore and from all of Europe - the center of a territory rich in genealogical interest - this city became the seat of the society's activity, the purpose of which is to collect, preserve and disseminate the knowledge of genealogy of this section of the country.

With this object in view the society has held monthly meetings at which speakers both from the membership and from the outside have talked on many aspects of genealogical research. Family histories have been begun and sometimes finished in so far as a family history can be finished. Family documents, old Bible records, cemetery records, marriage records from the note-books of old-time ministers and re-ordained nowhere else, these and other records have been sought out and copied for preservation and the use of the society. The Research Committee, aided by other members of the Society, have done many things toward collecting valuable genealogical material. A plan to trace the ancestry and descendants of the twenty or more Americans who first came to Detroit after the Revolution has made a fine beginning with the Charles Christopher Trowbridge history, published this year in the magazine. Valuable scrap-books have been made and presented to the society; court records of interest have been copied and indexed; volumes of genealogical material in various newspapers in the Burton Collection have also been indexed, making them of much more value to all workers in the library. A W.P.A. survey of Michigan historical source material was loaned to the society for copying. These and other activities have been carried on in the interests of genealogy in Detroit and its vicinity.

But how could the important material being collected by the society be best disseminated? A magazine seemed the answer. In June, 1937 a bulletin of six type-written pages made its appearance circulating only among members of the society. This was continued for a year and then in Oct. 1938 the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research Magazine was launched now containing twenty-two pages and circulating throughout the country.

Such are some of the more obvious things accomplished by the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research in the three years of its existence. Worthwhile things, it feels, things it will continue to promote in the years to come with ever increasing zeal. But something else more important, perhaps, has been done and will be done. Born in the midst of depression, it has furnished a fascinating hobby for many leisure hours, friendships have been made, family relationships discovered; a new interest in the history of our country developed; a fresh view of ourselves as Americans has been gained, as the trails of ancestry have been followed back often-times to wholly unsuspected sources. So at the beginning of this new year in the midst of world turmoil, should not the knowledge of ancestry, gleaned by even an amateur genealogist, make for sympathy and tolerance as he realizes that the blood of all the warring peoples flows through his veins from ancestors who fled here for peace in other days of turmoil?

NOTES OF THE SOCIETY

At this writing word has been received that Mrs. Wright, the mother of Mrs. Arthur Daniel is seriously ill. The sympathy of the society is extended to Mrs. Daniel and the members of her family.

The past month has been vacation time for many members of the society who report interesting genealogical tours and trips to various sections of the country.

Mrs. E. B. Kresge has toured through New York, Vermont and other New England states in quest of genealogical data.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGlynn visited Gettysburg, Washington and also points in Connecticut and Massachusetts.

Miss Margaret Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd DeWitt Smith attended the meeting of the Mayflower Society at Plymouth, Mass., recently.

Mrs. F. A. DeBoos, Chairman of the Research Committee, provides the following interesting information regarding the activities of her committee during ten past months.

"Members of Research Committee who are compiling index for Boston Transcript 1894-1899 edition Burton Library Scrapbooks are as follows:

Volumes 1 and 7	Mrs. A. C. Williams
Volume 2	Mrs. F. Tiedgen
Volumes 3 and 6	Chairman
Volume 4	Mrs. Wm. Moore
Volume 5	Miss Lowell and Miss Berning
Volumes 8 and 9	Mr. Jos. Letson

Those who have been engaged in checking the cards for all nine volumes and arranging the index for typing with the chairman are:

Mrs. Wm. Moore
 Mrs. A. C. Williams Both had to leave this spring.
 Mrs. F. Tiedgen who has aided from the beginning.
 Miss Elizabeth Noyes
 Mrs. W. F. Cleveland

Miss Hathaway, Mrs. Hay, Mrs. Swezy and Marjorie DeBoos have also given occasional lifts with the cards.

At the present writing the cards are ready for typing and so far the E's, A's and B's are typed and partially checked. Due to the time required for careful checking of all cards Miss Krum has decided to hold further typing until all are completely checked with the Burton catalogue file. With time for working limited, the committee hopes however to have the check completed by October at latest. We sincerely hope that the source material in these volumes will then be of help to many who are beginning their search for family forbears.

Mr. and Mrs. George Austin are also indexing one of the current volumes of The Hartford Times.

Mrs. Jas. Kinney of Virginia Park has also completed the indexing of Vol. I of the very first edition of the Boston Transcript. Mrs. Kinney has been invalided by a hip injury and has thus usefully employed her time for the benefit of others. She joined the D.S.G.R. in November of 1938. We are especially grateful to those of our members who give thus of their time and service to make research easier for others."

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Beavis and sons, Leonard and Robert, left Sat., Sept. 2, for an extensive tour through New York and the New England States. They have planned many searches for Tackabury, Shapley, Norris, Bryan and other family lines.

Frances Ida Schureman Judd

- 5 Frederick (2) de Veaux, Jr., b. ca 1684; m. (1) Hester Dyckman, 3 children, m. (2) June 15, 1720, Mary O'Dell of the Manor of Fordham, at the reformed Dutch Church, N. Y., 8 children, their daughter Sarah b. 1738, m. Nathaniel Tompkins. Frederick (2) de Veaux resided at Morrisania, Westchester Co. and was an influential and prosperous man. Appraisal of his estate was taken April 30, 1753. (Col. Thomas F. de Voe, author of the De Veaux Genealogy, was descended from this line, and the volume contains a lengthy chapter about Frederick (2) and his family.)
- 6 Daniel (2) de Veaux, b. ca. 1686, m. Margaret Colyer. Their marriage intentions at the Reformed Dutch Church in New York read "August 6, 1714, met attest v. N. Haarl. en de Mannor v. Their son Andrew, b. 1718 was recorded in the DeVeaux Genealogy, but another son, not so recorded, married Elizabeth d Axion, and on April 8, 1763, they had a son Jean bapt. at the French Huguenot Church, New York City, the grandparents, John and Judith Barait, acting as godfather and godmother.
- 13 Abigail (2) de Veaux b. ca. 1700; living in 1720 and unmarried at the time, d. about 1721.

(The DeVeaux Genealogy yields much about these children of w1 Frederick and v2 Hester Tourneur de Veaux and their descendants.)

(V2) Hester (Tourneur) de Veaux died previous to 1721. Her husband Wl Frederick (1) de Veaux, having provided each of his sons with large farms, Daniel at Fordham and Abel at New Rochelle, spent his last years among his children, and died in New Rochelle in 1743 at the venerable age of about 98 years and was interred on the farm of his son Abel. Joseph resided in New York City where he died in 1764, and Frederick, the eldest son, under a deed dated June 13, 1721, succeeded to the paternal estate at DeVoe's Point. An abstract of the will of Wl Frederick de Veaux follows

"In the name of God, Amen, Jan. 23, 1741. I. Frederic De Voorse, Sr. of Westchester. My executors are to pay all debts, and I leave to each of them L5. I leave to my eldest son Frederick L10. I make my sons Frederick and Daniel and my friend Abraham Martling, executors. Witnesses Gerardus Wilse, James Collard, Roger Barton.
Proved, Dec. 8, 1743."

(W1) Frederick de Veaux is believed to have been the last survivor of the French Huguenots experimentally familiar with religious persecution, who emigrated to America, and lingering traditions of the cruelties witnessed were related down through the years by numerous descendants.

(A fac simile of the handwritings of Wl Frederick de Veaux may be found in History of Harlem by Fiker).

(W2) Abel de Veaux whose birth year is given as about 1688 in the deVeaux Genealogy and in an old Schureman family Bible as 1692, was probably born at Morrisania, where his parents then resided. Although it is not clear just how early Abel removed to New Rochelle, the Town Records show that he was overseer of Highways there in 1713. In 1718 his father purchased 200 acres there from his daughter Leah, widow of Peter Gendron and, later, another tract of 100 acres. The Town Records of 1721 reveal the facts that Abel in 1721 was Assessor, Collector 1723, a freeholder in 1724. Assessor 1727, 1748, 1749. July 31, 1728, he received a transfer of land at New Rochelle from his father in which he was called "yeoman". In 1742 his father died bequeathing to Abel 100 acres, conditioned upon his paying certain sums to other heirs. It is known by old Bible records that Abel married a maiden named "Magdalene". Col. Thomas F. de Voe stated that her surname was Hunt. Unquestionably her name was "Magdalene". At this point the writer differs with the Colonel for several reasons and has, over a period of years, delved in source material of many sorts attempting to prove the truth. A diligent search of Hunt family records reveals no "Magdalene" of that period, although John Bogart Schureman (grandfather of the writer) had a sister Magdalene Schureman, who married William Soulice Hunt (of the New Rochelle Soulice and Hunt families) who was for many years a New York City architect and builder. For two years the writer lived in their home and listened to family traditions related by Magdalene (Schureman) Hunt then 87 years old. At no time was there any suggestion made that she was in any way related to her husband by blood which would have been true had Magdalene (-) de Veaux, wife of Abel de Veaux, been of the Westchester County Hunts. Magdalene (or Madeline) was a name commonly used among the French

Huguenots, and the writer is satisfied that Abel de Veaux married Magdalene Gautier of New York City, and that Col. de Voe in some manner confused Magdalene (Schureman) Hunt with Magdalene, the wife of Abel (2) de Veaux.

In the old family Bible (printed in French) by Jean Diodati, Imprimier Aggrieve, 1644, the baptismal and birth dates of the children of Abel are thus recorded:

"Age des enfans.

Abel Devaux et

Magdalene Devaux

"Abel Devaux, 15 Nov. 1720, presentee par Daniel Gautier and Judith Barret" (Barheit)

"Jean" (John) "Devaux, 11 March, 1721, presentee Johannes Barret" (Barheit) "and Susan Naudain

"Andre" (Andrew) "Devaux, 26 Novemb., 1723, presentee Abel and Magdalene Devaux

"Frederick Devaux, 29th July (or May), 1726, Daniel Champanois; et La femme" (whose name was Marguerite)

"Magdalene Devaux, 17 September, 1728 Daniel Gautier and Magdalene Devaux

"Ester Devaux, 22d Oct. 1731, presentee Isaac Dasset and Ester Das"

They were all baptized by Mr. Moulenars, (French Minister) at the time of their birth.

The will of Andrew (3) (Andre) Devoe, shows that Abel and Magdalena de Vaux had another son, Daniel Devaux living Dec. 14 1716, although he seems not to have been recorded in the old French Bible.

It will be observed that Daniel Gautier (who resided in New York City) was present at the times of baptism of two of the children of Abel and Magdalena Devaux. The record shows that all their children were baptized "at the time of their birth", therefore it was more than coincidence that found Daniel Gautier present from New York City at the home of this New Rochelle family on these two auspicious occasions and it was an almost universal custom among these French Huguenots to have their nearest relatives serve as godparents for their children. The register of the French Huguenot Church in New York City (L'Eglise du St. Esprit) records the baptisms of several children of the Gautier family. Two of these baptisms were sponsored by Magdalene Gautier. Daniel (2) Gautier and his wife Maria (3) Bogard (Peter 2, Jan Louwe 1) had a daughter Magdalene b. Apr. 4, bapt. Apr. 5 1719, by Louis Rou, then pastor of the church. Andre Bogard participated as godfather and Magdalene Gautier as godmother. Probably the infant was named for her Aunt Magdalene. Previous to this, Thomas Oakes b. Jan. 23, bapt. Jan. 26, 1714/15, a son of Thomas Oakes and Marie Gautier another sister of Daniel Gautier, was also baptized at the same church, the baptism being sponsored by Thomas Oakes godfather and Magdalene Gautier godmother. The baptism of Magdalene Gautier Apr. 5 1719 (daughter of Daniel Gautier) was the last recorded appearance of Daniel's sister Magdalene Gautier at this church. As Abel (3) Devaux first child of Abel (2) and Magdalene Devaux was born Nov. 15 1720 it is conclusive to the writer that Abel (2) and Magdalene (Gautier) Devaux were married during the interim and that Magdalene (Gautier) de Veaux, thereafter living at New Rochelle, was unable to be present in New York at the baptisms of later arrivals in the Gautier family. Daniel (3) de Veaux, Son of Abel (2) and Magdalene, may have been named for his great grandfather, Daniel (1) Fourneur but it is much more reasonable to conclude that he was named after his mother's brother, Daniel Gautier. To the writer it is evident that Abel (2) de Veaux married not Magdalene Hunt, but Magdalene Gautier and upon that basis her family relationship will be included in this history.

Tl Jacques Gautier of St. Blancard in the Province of Languedoc, France, is said to have been the first American progenitor of the Gautier family, and was descended from a noble and prominent family of that name. He, with his family, emigrated to this country soon after the revocation of the Edict of Nantes, and his family of two sons and several daughters were among the early members of the Huguenot Church in New York City, L Eglise du St. Esprit. Daniel, the eldest son, either came to the new world by way of Kingston, Jamaica, and perhaps the entire family did so, or Daniel may have been the only one to enter by that route. Many French Huguenots came first to the West Indies, later seeking a cooler climate farther north, on the main land of North America. Daniel's residence at Kingston is affirmed by the will of Elias Nezreau.

"Elias Nezreau In the name of God Amen. I, Elias Nezreau of the Island of Jamaica in the West Indies, and at present living at Kingston on said island. I leave to my nephew, James Martin at present in London, all my message, lands tenements and negroes on the Island of Jamaica. I leave to my nephew, Lewis Martine, now in London L500, which is in the hands of Mr. Charles Kent, in London, merchant. I leave to the children of my dear niece Jane Barbauld sister of James and Lewis Martine, L500. To my Godson, Zachary Gautier, son of Daniel Gautier, of Kingston, L100. I leave to my dear cousin Nezreau, son of my cousin, Elias Nezreau, L500. I leave to each of my executors L10 to buy a mourning suit of clothes. I make my trusty friends, Daniel Gautier, of Jamaica, and Benjamin Faneuil of New York, executors.

"Dated August 21, 1707. Witnesses, William Higgins, John Paget, James Bradshaw, John Tones.

"My negro boy, Augustine, is to be free, and sent to school, and taught a trade of carpenter, or cooper, in New York, or London, and is to have L20 to buy Him tools."

The above will definitely locates Daniel Gautier at Jamaica, August 21, 1707. A codicil, dated Mar. 28, 1709 finds him residing in New York. Elias Nezreau's mention in the will of Daniel's son Zachary shows that Daniel Gautier married previous to his leaving Kingston.

Codicil: "In the name of God, Amen. I Elias Nezreau late of the Island of Jamaica, but now of New York, Merchant, being at present very sick, and left in the hands of Daniel Gautier. I leave to my kinsman, Francis Vincent, of New York, my large canoe. To John Barbarie and Paul Drollet L50 for the Poor of the French Congregation of New York. To Anna David daughter of Jane David, widow L10. To Daniel, Ezekiel and Susannah David, children of Jane David L10. And whereas I am security for Jean David Jr., son of John David, to Daniel Roberts, for L40, my executors are to see the same discharged. I leave to David Maynard tailor, L10. I make Benjamin Faneuil of New York, Merchant to be executor of this present addition to my former will. Dated Mar. 28, 1709. Witnesses, Abraham Tonna, John Rushmore, Abraham Gouverneur. Proved Mar. 17, 1709/10."

The will of Samuel Bayard, of New York City, proved June 30, 1745/6. describes a garden and lane which Mr. Bayard then occupied, as "lying on the north side of Princes St., between the houses of Daniel and Andrew Gautier."

"You'll hear the very man who breeds prize-dogs and specialises in orchids insist that all human beings are equal. He'll sniff at a cross-bred mongrel and sneer at a dandelion, but he'll tell you straight that he himself is as good as the bluest blood and the finest stock, though he may be sprung from a collier's cot or twenty nameless mixed strains. 'Tisn't common sense to my thinking! There is no good or evil done; fine thoughts put into shape or base ones grown secretly, but blossoms again somehow in later lives. We've got to fight our own way, but there's both help and binding from those gone before." Constance Holme in "The Lonely Plough"
